Bass v. Pershing et. al.

Reply In Opposition To Defendant - CGMI's Request for Adjournment of IPTC

To The Honorable USDJ – Valerie E. Caproni, presiding:

Plaintiff – Robert C Bass, respectfully submits this Reply in Opposition to Defendant – CGMI's request for adjournment of the July 25th, 2025, IPTC, established by the Court.

CGMI claims – “The other Defendants have consented to this request.” ¶ 3, DkEntry: 76.

Plaintiff request your Honor inquire with “the other Defendants,” to confirm, if, in fact, the other Defendants – FINRA, Pershing, Pershing LLC, BNY Pershing and BNY NA, have consented to CGMI's request for adjournment, along with submission of their own respective request for adjournment, to include proposed intents to also file their own respective, subsequent motions to dismiss – especially since CGMI has stated in its request, “...other defendants will be moving to dismiss the Amended Complaint,” ¶ 2, Ln. 2 (Id.) and or summarily deny CGMI's request for adjournment, in its entirety and allow ‘all’ defendants to submit their respective, intended motion(s) to dismiss, no later than July 15th, 2025 and sustaining the July 17th, 2025 mandate order for submission of a “joint letter”, requested by this Court.

Again, CGMI's request for adjournment is for purposes of unnecessary delay and the Plaintiff avers with a high degree of confidence – based on the merits presented in the Amended Complaint, none of the Defendants possess any legal standing in law, rule(s) or regulation(s) towards prevailing in their submissions of a subsequent motion to dismiss.

Respectfully Submitted,

s/Robert C Bass
